SSS covers over half a million more temporary government workers

Over half a million government workers under job order (JO) and contract of service (COS) workers employment status not covered by the Government Service Insurance System (GSIS) can now enjoy social security protection thanks to the Social Security System (SSS) membership expansion program started by SSS President and Chief Executive Officer (PCEO) Rolando Ledesma Macasaet.

SSS Executive Vice President for Branch Operations Sector Voltaire P. Agas said the new SSS members would not only improve the financial standing of the state pension fund but also fulfill further its mandate to provide social security protection to as many Filipinos as possible.

The scholarship program of the Provincial Government of Laguna (PGL) continuously ensures access to proper education for less privileged but deserving students after its institutionalization through Resolution No. 719, S.2021, also known as, "A Resolution Approving Ordinance No. 14, S. 2021: "An Ordinance Institutionalizing the Scholarship Program of Laguna to be Known as "Iskolar ng Laguna," providing policy guidelines for the availment thereof, and appropriating funds therefor."

The COVID-19 pandemic provides more challenges for the implementation of the program after face-to-face transactions became prohibited to contain the spread of COVID-19. But this doesn't stop the Provincial Government of Laguna from providing basic service to its people, particularly to students, who have been drastically affected by the situation.

The pandemic serves as an avenue to elevate the services catered to the public by implementing the Iskolar Information System (IIS). This system serves as the course of action and a helpful tool for carrying out the scholarship program of the province, which is one of the priority programs of Governor Ramil L. Hernandez.

Prior to pandemic, the scholar coordinators spend weeks to

Magtipid ng tubig, patuluyang paalaala ng ALWD

NI RUBEN E. TANINGCO

ALAMINOS, Laguna - Sa mga nakakadalaw sa tanggapan ng Alaminos (Laguna) Water District (ALWD) dito, kanila kaagad mapansin ang mga promotional materials na kanilang ipinamahagi sa mga subscriber upang sila ay hikayating magtipid sa paggamit ng tubig sa ilalim ng kaisipang ang lahat ay dapat magmalasakit na mapangalagaan ang panustos na tubig, sapagka't "Malinis na Tubig, ay Kailangan Natin, kaya Alagaan Natin."

Sang-ayon kay Director Emerson C. Maligalig, ang ilan sa kanilang mga payo para ang mga bumubuo ng isang sambahayan ay makatipid sa tubig ay (1) mag-imbak ng tubig sa mga malilinis na sisidlan, tulad sa mga botelya ng soft drink para ito ang gamitin sa kusina kung nagluluto, lamang tiyaking ang gagamitin nilang sisi-dlan ay hindi napaglalagyan ng nakalalasang kemikal; (2) gumamit ng timba at tabo sa paliligo, at huwag hayaang bukas o tumutulo ang gripo samantalang nagsasabon at naghihilod ng katawan; (3) gumamit ng baso sa pagsisipilyo; at (4) magdiil ng mga halaman bago sumikat ang araw, o pagpapalubog na ang araw, ito ay upang makaiwas sa malakas ng singaw o evaporation na ang napapabuhos

Fire Square Roadshow, isinagawa sa SM San Pablo

NI RUBEN E. TANINGCO

Bilang pagtalima sa layunin ng pagdiriwang ng Fire Prevention Month kung Buwan ng Marso na makalikha ng ligtas sa sunog at matibay na pamayanan, ang Bureau of Fire Protection (BFP) Laguna Provincial Office sa pamamagitan ng Fire Marshal Arlene A. Balais bilang Provincial Fire Marshal at sa pangangasiwa ni FCInsp. Adrian S. Dela Cruz, City Fire Marshal ng Lungsod ng San Pablo, ay naglunsad ng "Fire Square Roadshow" sa atrium ng SM City San Pablo noong nakaraang Martes.

Ang aktibidad ay sa pakiki-pag-ugnayan kay Assistant Mall Manager Edessa P. Sibug, na dinaluhan nina Chief of Staff FSSupt. Shiela C. Andrade ng BFP-Region IV-A, at Provincial Disaster Risk Reduction Management Officer Aldwin M. Cejo bilang kinatawan ni Gob. Ramil L. Hernandez.

Ayon kay FSSupt. Andade, ang Fire Square Roadshow ay isang interactive o tuloy-tuloy na daloy ng impormasyon mula sa BFP patungo sa publiko upang ang mga karaniwang mamamayan ay maturuang itanim sa kanilang kaisipan ang kultura ng pagiging ligtas sa sunog.

Wastong paggamit at pangan-galaga ng iba't ibang uri ng fire extinguisher; pagkilala sa pinagmumulan ng sunog, upang mabatid ang angkop na pamamaraan upang ito ay masugpo; at maging ang mga alituntuning ipinatupad ng pamahalaan upang ang komunidad ay magawang ligtas sa sunog, ay dapat na maging bahagi na ng kaisipan o instinct ng mga tao at ito ang pinag-sikapang maitanim sa kaisipan ng mga mamamayan sa ginagawa ng Bureau of Fire Protection sa pagtataguyod ng Fire Square Roadshow, at mga fire drill.

Si FSSupt. Andrade ay natalagang San Pablo City Fire Marshal noong 2016 kung kailan kanyang ikinampanya na iwasan ang magtingi ng gasolina na nakasilid sa malalaking botelya ng soft drink, at iwasang mag-imbak ng tangke ng LPG o gas kung walang imbak na storeroom para sa mga tangke, sapagkat iyong ay lubhang mapanganib ingatan sa hindi angkop na kaayusan. At pamilyar siya na ang pangasiwaan ng SM City San Pablo ay lubhang matulungin sa pagpapatupad ng mga palatuntunan ng Kawanihan ng Pangangalaga Laban Sa Sunog.

Ang kanyang pagdalo ay parang re-union umano nila nina Mall Manager Sibug, PR Manager Niña P. Wong at iba pang mga management staff.

INDIGENT VERSUS NEEDY

When I was working as a Director of PCSO, I realized that there is not much of a difference between an indigent person and a needy person, and as a matter of fact, the two could be one and the same. In theory, PCSO should only provide financial assistance to indigent persons, but how could we say no to needy persons who do not appear to be indigents? Applicants who ask for financial assistance from PCSO and who claim to be indigents are required to secure a Certificate of Indigency from their barangay chairman. Based on what I know however, most chairmen would issue such certificates to almost anyone, knowing perhaps that most of their residents are needy, one way or the other. I happen to know a lot of people who are technically not indigents because they are earning some incomes and may even happen to have some savings. The problem is, they lose their means of income when they get sick, and they often have no choice but to spend their savings for their treatments. That is how they become practically needy, even if they would still appear to be affluent. Fortunately, the social workers of PCSO know their job very well, and somehow, they are able to sense that even if an applicant appears to be affluent, he or she might have become indigent already, because of the high costs of his or her treatments. As a matter of fact, they might have fallen below the poverty line already.

JEEPNEY TRANSPORT COOPERATIVES

We hear so much about "jeepney consolidation" but I think that instead of focusing on that, we should focus on "cooperative formation", and by that, I mean the formation or the strengthening of transport cooperatives. To me, that sounds like a cause-and-effect relationship, and by that, I mean that cooperativism should be the cause, and consolidation should be the effect. Long before the idea of "jeepney consolidation" came along, there are many transport cooperatives already, and many of them already own and operate jeepney units. As the saying goes, "if it isn't broke, don't fix it". And by that, I mean that we should have just encouraged the adoption of more jeepney units, but owned and managed by transport cooperatives. Strictly speaking, it does not even have to be transport coops at all, because it can just be any cooperative that is already selling all kinds of products and services, and all they have to do is to add jeepney operation as another service. That is so simple and easy to do, and any coop can do that. I am wondering why the jeepney drivers have to be forced to go into consolidation, if it is going to be profitable to them, meaning that they can make more money out of it. And if they can be offered friendly and affordable financing packages, there should be no need to force them also to buy in. But the good news is, many coops can afford to finance their own projects, if and when profitable.

MAKING HOLLOW BLOCKS FROM CRUSHED GLASS BOTTLES

"From sand to sand" could be another version of "from dust to dust". No, I am not talking about life after death, but the parallelism could be true if we could make new products from crushed glass bottles, including hollow blocks for building homes. That is so because glass bottles are essentially made from sand, and if these are crushed into small grains, these could become sand again, or something that looks like sand. Before globalization came along, it was very easy to recycle glass bottles, because most of the two-way glass bottles were made by the local manufacturers who needed to buy these back. When globalization happened, all kinds of glass bottles of all sizes entered the market, and the importers of these one-way containers had no need to buy them back. In the old days, used glass bottles were bought by the piece by the junk shops, but they can't do that too much now, because most of the bottles are one-way. To solve that problem, I now propose that we should pass a law requiring the junk shops to buy used bottles by the kilo. I am sure that law will not be a burden for them, because they will make money from that. Buying back by the kilo may be a new idea, but crushing used glass bottles to turn them back to sand is not a new idea, as it is already being done in many other countries. One objection to this idea could be the electricity cost, but I think the power costs could be recovered through the sale of the finished products, including the new homes.

JUVENILE DETENTION CENTERS

In theory, jails are for minor offenders with short sentences, and prisons are for major offenders with long sentences. Jails are usually run by local government, and prisons are run by the national government. But these definitions are almost always not exact, and the differences often get blurred here and there. More often than not, arrested suspects who are still waiting for hearings or sentences are also placed in the jails, and they are usually mixed in with those who are already sentenced and are already convicted. There seems to be no problem with that if we are talking about adult inmates, but there are really big problems when we are talking about juvenile offenders. Also in theory, those who are still awaiting sentencing are really just detainees and are therefore not prisoners, strictly speaking that is. That could not be truer in the case of juveniles, who are technically just detainees, and are not prisoners. But the problem is, these juveniles are always mixed in with the adult detainees. While the obvious solution is to put up separate detention centers for the juveniles, what is really needed is a holistic solution that should involve a complete ecosystem, and not just the simplistic putting up of physical buildings. For one, the mental health of these young people may already be a problem, and that is why the suicide rate among them is very high. Who should lead these holistic efforts? Perhaps the DILG? Or the DOH? Or the DSWD?

SSS covers over half a million more temporary gov't workers in SSS coverage through the KaSSSangga Collect Program as they were not covered by GSIS programs.

"We are sad to hear their stories that, after decades of public service, they have zero savings and do not receive any pension when they retire, Macasaet was quoted as saying. "Through the KaSSSangga Collect Program, temporary public workers will be registered as self-employed members while their respective organizations shall collect and remit their contributions to the SSS, thereby helping them to become eligible for Social Security and Employees' Compensation benefits."

Among the many government agencies that entered into a memorandum of agreement (MOU) with SSS under the KaSSSangga Collect Program were the Quezon City District 2 of the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH). This MOU will cover over 200 of their JO and COS workers, who are mostly street sweepers.

Agas said that the largest membership coverage was recorded in Quezon City with around 15,000 JOs after SSS PCEO Macasaet and Quezon City Mayor Joy Belmonte signed an agreement last January 29, 2024. Prior to the SSS-QC Government partnership, the pension fund has already sealed agreements with the Local Government of Mandaluyong, Taguig and Malabon in 2023.

"As they are exposed to various health hazards while performing their duties, the more these workers deserve social security protection regardless of their employment status in the government," Agas added.

Agas said more government agencies employing JO workers are expected to join the KaSSSangga Collect Program. In January 2024 alone, Agas said SSS had sealed partnerships with 32 government institutions in the National Capital Region.

Likewise, an additional 74 program partners from Luzon, Visayas and Mindanao also joined the agreements which secured the SSS membership of 2,251 temporary government workers, he added.

Agas urged other public sector leaders and groups to extend social security protection to their constituents and colleagues by subsidizing their monthly SSS contributions.

"They can shoulder the contribution payments of their chosen recipients for at least six months through the Contribution Subsidy Provider Program. Let us join forces to invest in the future of our fellow workers in government through equitable social security protection," Agas said.

Agas noted that SSS was able to collect over P7.08 billion worth of workers' contributions from 2015 to 2023 under the program. Over 2,100 Local Government Units (LGUs) remitted P4.66 billion worth of contributions while almost 700 National Government Agencies (NGAs) and Government Owned and Controlled Corporations (GOCCs) paid P2.03 billion.

On the other hand, over 100 State

Colleges and Universities (SUCs) remitted P289.91 million SSS contributions and 86 Local Water Districts (LWDs) paid P97.64 million. "We commend the proactive stance of our partners in the government sector in providing adequate social safety nets to their JO and COS workers through active SSS membership," Agas said.

He added that their significant role as coverage and collection partners helped SSS in generating higher revenues while also providing meaningful benefits to all members.

It was recently announced that in 2023, SSS achieved P83.13 billion net income that year, with a huge bulk coming from contribution collection of P309.12 billion.

Agas attributed the outstanding financial performance of SSS last year to the efforts of the SSS management and employees in intensifying its collection activities such as registering new paying members, improved collection from delinquent employers, and the 2023 contribution rate hike.

But through the system, the students were able to submit digital document requirements instead of presenting the required documents physically, which will protect both the students and employees without the circumference of an accurate and organized process. Affirming its effectiveness, the DICT, NICEP, and the DILG conferred the Digital Governance Awards 2020: Best in Customer Empowerment (Champion, Provincial Level) to the Provincial Government of Laguna.

Aside from launching the information system, Gov. Hernandez allocated P200 million to benefit 20,000 scholars for Academic Year (AY) 2021-2022 after numerous students halted their education due to financial constraints.

From 9,927 actual beneficiaries in AY 2020-2021, the number rose to 19,709 actual beneficiaries in 2021-2022. From the latter's figure, 3,990 scholars graduated in 2022.

Further, PGL launched the online qualifying examination. Highlighting the need to continuously provide financial assistance, the currently ongoing examination has been offered to more than 30,000 aspirants who applied for the scholarship for Academic Year 2023-2024.

Under the leadership of Gov. Hernandez, PGL is committed to producing more professionals providing a brighter future, not only for the scholars but also for the province and the nation as well.

ICT: The Modern Learning Tool for the Modern Learners

BY MARIBEL B. LAYDEROS
TEACHER III, MAGSAYSAY ES
SINILGAN SO

In today's digital age, the integration of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) in the learning process has become indispensable. From classrooms to online platforms, ICT plays a pivotal role in enhancing educational experiences and facilitating effective learning outcomes. Its importance lies in its ability to democratize access to information, foster interactive learning environments, cater to diverse learning styles, promote collaboration, and prepare students for the demands of the modern world.

Firstly, ICT breaks down barriers to accessing information and resources. With just a few clicks, students can explore a wealth of knowledge beyond the confines of traditional textbooks. Online libraries, academic databases, and educational websites offer a plethora of learning materials that cater to various subjects and interests. This accessibility ensures that students have the opportunity to engage with diverse perspectives, deepening their understanding of the world around them.

Teachers serve as the architects of learning, leveraging ICT to create dynamic and engaging classroom experiences. Through the strategic use of technology, educators can enrich lessons, tailor instruction to individual student needs, and foster a collaborative learning environment.

One way teachers utilize ICT is through multimedia presentations and interactive whiteboards. These tools allow educators to deliver content in engaging and visually stimulating ways, capturing students' attention and enhancing comprehension. By incorporating videos, animations, and interactive simulations, teachers can make abstract concepts more tangible and relatable, fostering deeper understanding and retention.

Moreover, ICT transforms passive learning into active engagement. Interactive multimedia tools, simulations, and educational software make learning dynamic and immersive. Concepts that once seemed abstract or complex can be visualized and explored in a hands-on manner, making them more tangible and comprehensible. Through interactive exercises and simulations, students can experiment, make mistakes, and learn from their experiences, fostering critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

Additionally, ICT accommodates diverse learning styles and preferences. Not all students learn in the same way, and technology allows for personalized learning experiences. Whether through audiovisual materials, text-based resources, or interactive activities, ICT offers flexibility in how information is presented and assimilated. This personalized approach ensures that each student can learn at their own pace and in a manner that suits their individual needs, promoting inclusivity and equity in education.

Furthermore, ICT facilitates collaboration and communication among students and educators. Online forums, video conferencing tools, and collaborative platforms enable students to connect with peers and experts from around the globe, fostering a sense of community and shared learning. Through collaborative projects and discussions, students develop teamwork and communication skills essential for success in the digital age.

Lastly, ICT equips students with the digital literacy skills necessary for navigating the modern world. In an increasingly interconnected and technology-driven society, proficiency in ICT is no longer optional but essential. By integrating ICT into the learning process, students develop technical skills, digital citizenship, and the ability to critically evaluate information, empowering them to thrive in a rapidly evolving landscape.

The importance of ICT in the learning process cannot be overstated. From expanding access to knowledge to fostering interactive and personalized learning experiences, ICT enhances education in myriad ways. By embracing technology, educators can create inclusive, engaging, and empowering learning environments that prepare students for success in the digital age.

TEACHER III
BARANGHAWON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Though challenges come, we never despair,
For the joy of teaching, we gladly bear.
With dedication and grace, we pave the way,
For a brighter tomorrow, come what may.

We stand as guardians year after year,
With chalk in hand and dreams in sight,
We guide young hearts toward the light.

In a world full of chaos, we find solace here,
In the embrace of learning, in the faces so dear,
For in the lives we touch, our purpose is clear,
To inspire, to empower, year after year.

From dawn till dusk, our days unfold,
In tales of courage and stories untold.
With patience and love, we nurture each mind,
In the hearts of our students, our passion we find.

So here's to the teachers, in classrooms small,
Whose hearts are big, whose love stands tall.
For in the lives we shape, in the lessons we impart,
We leave an indelible mark, a teacher's heart.

A learning mechanism designed to develop the foundational, social, and other abilities required to achieve the basic education curriculum's objectives.
